Welcome

Clive Dickin CEO, NASC

Firstly, I would like to thank the Board and the members for the very warm welcome I've had since becoming CEO a few months ago. I've been delighted to see the level of engagement from members and the sharp focus of the Board on what they'd like to achieve in the months and years ahead.

I am quickly discovering what a remarkable sector this is. It has been a real pleasure to learn about our members' work, ranging from small family businesses to large companies dealing in highly technically complex structures – and everything in between. I want NASC to meet the needs of each and every member but also to represent the industry to the outside world, demonstrating its critical importance to our economy and its outstanding opportunities for employment and careers.

NASC can look back upon a year where much was achieved, including the continued setting of standards for the industry that provide the framework for members to demonstrate a level of efficiency and safety that other industry bodies can only dream of.

However, in other areas there is much to do and there are great opportunities ahead for NASC. This includes the promotion of the organisation to the industry and broader construction sector; better transparency between the organisation and its members; enhancing our commercial capabilities; and speeding up our delivery.

One of the first things I did on my arrival was to look at NASC's Vision and Mission, the draft of which I present here:

NASC CAN LOOK BACK UPON A YEAR WHERE MUCH WAS ACHIEVED. HOWEVER, THERE IS MUCH TO DO AND THERE ARE GREAT OPPORTUNITIES AHEAD

Mission

To drive the highest independent standards across the access and scaffolding sector, enabling our members to provide industry leading support to their customers and clients.

Vision

Our members are recognised by their customers and clients for their industry-leading expertise and quality of service, providing them with competitive advantage across the access and scaffolding sector.

I have also worked closely with colleagues and the Board to establish eight strategic pillars that will form the foundation of our work over the next three years. It is important to have a clear strategy to focus our efforts and define our future. I presented these eight strategic pillars in draft form for discussion at the regional meetings and Council's approval in October 2023.

We have already begun the process of enhancing our communication with members with a new newsletter, a new flagship magazine, and establishing our voice in the media as an authority in the construction sector. We are also beginning to enhance the digitisation of our communications, which is critical to futureproof the organisation and attract members from a new generation. This is also critical to our plans to develop events, with online offerings such as webinars complementing improved in-person events such as the AGM, which I would like to develop into an industry-leading conference and exhibition.

We have begun building on the excellence within our standards setting, seeking to further develop transparency and quality, and soon reaching for validation through ISO9001 and ISO14001. Linked to this is engagement with our members' clients so we can promote these high standards and enhance members' prospects of winning work.

I am determined that we will live and breathe continuous improvement at NASC and make this already strong membership organisation into a real leader in the field, as is appropriate for an industry that is pivotal in the construction industry and hugely impactful on the UK economy as a whole.

NASC PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Triple goals

David Brown
PRESIDENT, NASC

WE WANTED TO RECRUIT SOMEONE WHO WOULD NOT ONLY RUN OUR ORGANISATION WELL BUT ALSO REPRESENT US AS OUR FIGUREHEAD, LEAD ON STANDARDS, AND FIGHT OUR CORNER

Welcome to our Yearbook, which comes at a pivotal time for NASC; a time of renewed energy and ambition for the organisation and our members.

In the summer of this year, we recruited our new CEO, Clive Dickin, who is now driving us forward in a very positive direction. It is early days but he has made a considerable impression on the Board thanks to his dynamism, vision, and focus.

We wanted to recruit someone who would not only run our organisation well but also represent us as our figurehead, lead on standards, and fight our corner. In Clive, I believe we have that. We already have a new Vision and Strategy for NASC that will shape our work in the coming years, and I know Clive is making his way around the country to meet as many members as possible. I would encourage you to make contact with him and to share your views on the industry and the organisation so you too can help shape our future.

As President, I have three prime objectives:

- Deliver training grants to member companies.
- Plot the road to Net Zero.
- Promote 'It has to be NASC' to the construction sector.

Training grants

The new training grants have been a huge success and I would like to see even more given out. We have already given out well in excess of £60,000 in grants, ranging from grants given to companies recruiting new starters, right along the career ladder up to higher qualifications.

Our industry needs both to recruit new starters and to retain its experienced operatives. This is why we will continue to promote these grants for everything from newly qualified scaffolders and newly qualified advanced scaffolders to scaffold supervisors and scaffold inspectors – and more. This all helps to drive standards in the industry ever higher and marks out NASC members as the leaders in their field.

Net Zero

NASC has signed up to the pledge to become Net Zero and is offering members every support it can to help them reach this goal. Trading is challenging for everyone at the moment so we are very aware that members need support not sanctions as they plot their own paths to compliance. We will continue to offer a wide range of support and guidance, including the recent issue of guidance note SEI:22 – Becoming Net Zero Carbon, which is a great place for member companies to start.

It has to be NASC

This campaign is squarely aimed at main contractors, clients, local authorities, and government to ensure that when it comes to specifying scaffolding, they demand NASC members only.

We will work hard to explain the value of using NASC members: the safety, the auditing, the materials quality, and the standards. NASC members have an incredible safety and delivery record and we must ensure that those organisations putting out tenders realise that. With Clive now on board, we have already started this work in earnest, meeting other industry bodies in the construction sector and making inroads into government and the civil service.

Main contractors are already seeking NASC members in their tenders, and we will do all we can to make this the standard approach when it comes to scaffolding and access. As contractors demand ever-higher safety and delivery standards, NASC members will be perfectly positioned to take advantage.

I reflect that there has always been so much potential in this sector and within the membership, but this year will be a period where we make a real commitment to changing potential into action. I'd like to thank members for their support and their positivity, and I am genuinely excited to see what NASC can do for them over the year ahead.

Standard bearer

NASC's business values are the foundation of its mission and vision for 2024-25. By adhering to these values, NASC aims to elevate the access and scaffolding industry to new levels of excellence and recognition.

By joining NASC, scaffolding contractors can benefit from these values and contribute to the success of the sector. By choosing NASC members, customers and clients can expect the highest standards of quality and service in the industry.

NASC's mission for 2023-2025 is clear: to champion the highest independent standards within the access and scaffolding industry and empower NASC members to provide unmatched support to their customers and clients. The vision is equally compelling; NASC envisions its members being renowned by customers and clients alike for their industry-leading expertise and service quality, thereby granting them a competitive edge in the sector.

These values are commitments to providing the following:

- Quality standards: NASC publishes standards that expand business prospects for its members and ensure quality, safety, and compliance in the industry.
- Quality membership: NASC ensures its members meet stringent standards through rigorous audits and vetting processes, instilling confidence in clients regarding the quality of services provided.

NASC ENVISIONS ITS MEMBERS BEING RENOWNED BY CUSTOMERS AND CLIENTS ALIKE FOR THEIR INDUSTRY-LEADING EXPERTISE AND SERVICE QUALITY, GRANTING THEM A COMPETITIVE EDGE

- Strong talent pipeline: NASC actively promotes diversity and encourages a continuous influx of talent at all levels within the access and scaffolding sector.
- Solutions provider: NASC focuses on ensuring that its core policy areas align with industry needs, maintaining high standards and providing solutions for customers and clients.
- Exceptional communicator: NASC supports the sector through a range of events, communications, services, and affinity products at preferential rates for its members.
- Digital innovator: Embracing technology, NASC is digitising service delivery and operations, enhancing communication, user experience, and efficiency.
- Environmental impact: NASC takes a leadership role in environmental best practices within the sector and in its own operations.

- Values based: NASC commits to being a values-based trade body, exemplifying ethical, respectful, and professional conduct in interactions both within and beyond the sector.

The yearbook features some of the best examples of how NASC members embody NASC values and delivered exceptional projects across various sectors, such as commercial, residential, industrial, infrastructure, heritage, and entertainment.

The yearbook also highlights how NASC members have contributed to social value, community engagement, sustainability, innovation, training, health and safety, and diversity in the industry. The yearbook is a celebration of the achievements of NASC members who have demonstrated their professionalism, expertise, and quality in their work.

NASC invites you to explore its 2024 Yearbook and discover how its members are setting the standards in access and scaffolding.

Easing the road to membership

NASC has introduced compliance auditors to streamline its membership application process. Potential members can now use the auditors to assist and mentor them through the applications and renewals.

NASC understands that applying for membership can be a daunting process, especially for smaller or newer businesses. That is why NASC has made the contractor application process easier by introducing compliance auditors who can assist applicants with their applications and renewals.

These independent auditors can discuss all areas of the business, from administration to the yard and on site. They will provide advice, support, and feedback on how to improve operations and meet the requirements for membership.

NASC AUDIT PROCESS ENSURES ITS MEMBERS MEET STRINGENT STANDARDS OF QUALITY, SAFETY, AND COMPLIANCE IN THEIR SCAFFOLDING WORKS

NASC is the UK's national trade body, representing over 80% of the industry's turnover and setting the standards for the industry since 1945. Its mission is to champion the highest independent standards within the access and scaffolding sector with the vision of making its members renowned for their industry-leading expertise and service quality.

One of the key benefits of being a NASC member is access to NASC's audit process, which ensures that its members meet stringent standards of quality, safety, and compliance in their scaffolding works.

The NASC audit process is one of the reasons why many contractor clients of all sizes and sectors specify NASC-only or NASC-equivalent for their scaffolding requirements. NASC invites all scaffolding contractors who want to join the trade body for scaffolding excellence to get in touch today. Don't miss your opportunity to stand out from the competition with a NASC audit certificate and prove your quality, safety, and compliance standards to your customers and clients.

Granting opportunities

NASC understands the need to continually train scaffolding operatives, whether they are just starting in the industry or developing professionally to progress in their careers. It also understands that training isn't free and that scheduling and budgeting for training can present challenges for contractor businesses' operations. That's why NASC supports its members at every stage of their training journey through its dedicated President's Training Fund.

Since its launch in 2022 by NASC President, David Brown, NASC has paid out over £50,000 worth of training grants to its members.

Gloucestershire-based Severnside Scaffolding specialises in scaffolding, roofing, and safety, and it recently utilised the fund to further develop its team. Speaking to NASC, David Swale from the company said: "These types of training grants are immensely valuable for smaller contractors. Without them, we wouldn't be able to replace experienced staff as they progress up the career ladder or exit the profession.

"This provision allows us to manage the expenses of their training while simultaneously covering their wages throughout that period. Moreover, we are dedicated to offering opportunities for local individuals within the community to undergo training and pursue a fulfilling career in the field of scaffolding."

NASC supports businesses across the UK and was delighted to support scaffold hire, sales, and erection specialists Anglesey Scaffolding (Ynys Mon) Company Ltd. when it applied for the grant. Carys Griffiths from the company explains how it used the fund. "Making sure our operatives receive proper training is not only obligatory but also a pivotal element for staff development and retention. However, as employers, it's crucial to recognise that training costs encompass more than just course expenses. We must also account for the potential loss of revenue while our operatives are away from the site.

"Additionally, given the limited availability of local training centres, we often have to cover expenses related to travel and accommodation for our trainees. Therefore, any funding aimed at alleviating cash flow challenges in such situations is greatly appreciated. NASC's support has been invaluable, making the entire process remarkably smooth and straightforward."

THESE TRAINING GRANTS ARE IMMENSELY VALUABLE FOR SMALLER CONTRACTORS. IT ALLOWS US TO MANAGE THE EXPENSES OF TRAINING WHILE COVERING THEIR WAGES THROUGHOUT THAT PERIOD

THE GRANTS AVAILABLE

● The President's Training Fund is comprised of six of grants, which can be claimed for a variety of training needs.

● Newly Qualified CISRS Scaffolder
This grant allows you to claim £200 for operatives qualifying for their first CISRS Scaffolder Card. Please note they will need to have completed their training already.

● Newly Qualified CISRS Advanced Scaffolder
Allows you to claim £250 for operatives qualifying for their first CISRS Advanced Scaffolder Card. Please note they will need to have completed their training already.

● CISRS Systems Scaffold Product Training Scheme (SSPTS) Endorsement
Utilising this endorsement allows you to claim £175 for operatives completing a CISRS SSPTS course and getting the system endorsement on their CISRS Scaffolder or Advanced Card. Please note they will need to have completed their training already.

● Newly Qualified CISRS Supervisor
With this grant you can claim £500 for operatives qualifying for their first CISRS Supervisor Scaffolder Card. Please note they will need to have completed their training already.

● CISRS Scaffold Inspection Training Scheme (SITS)
Allows you to claim £175 for operatives completing a CISRS SITS systems product course and getting the system endorsement on their CISRS Basic or Advanced Inspection card. Please note they will need to have completed their training already.

● New Entrant (Non-Scaffolding Operative)
Claim £150 for any relevant industry training completed by a new member of staff, who isn't a scaffolder. This could be office staff, trainee estimators, drivers, and more.

NASC launches new industry magazine

NASC has created a new voice for the industry: 'Scaffolding Insider' – the official digital magazine of the National Access & Scaffolding Confederation.

'Scaffolding Insider' delivers high-quality content for the scaffolding sector and the wider construction industry. It covers the latest news, insights, and best practice from the experts and innovators in the sector. It will also include interactive content through video, polls, webinars and QR codes alongside NASC news, industry issues, interviews, and projects.

'Scaffolding Insider' will be published 10 times a year, starting from 23 October 2023. Registration is free and easy, and is sent directly to your inbox. 'Scaffolding Insider' will be disseminated digitally for environmental reasons and registration is free.

NASC CEO, Clive Dickin said: "NASC is a critical component to the scaffolding and access sector. Being a dynamic communicator is key and it's vital we share the knowledge and the guidance we develop for the sector and its members. So we are rightly proud that we are launching our new industry magazine to communicate critical information. 'Scaffolding Insider' – a bright, brand new industry magazine that will be loaded with great content for our NASC members, the scaffolding sector and the wider construction industry – is a great move for the organisation.

"We have lots to say, and the time has come to get our voice heard loud and proud within the industry. This free digital title will be a great addition for the scaffolding and access industries and all with an interest in safe work at height within construction. We are very excited about its launch and urge people to sign up for free."

scaffolding, paving the way for seamless multi-trade coordination.

This project's complexity, featuring intricate Layher designs and a robust execution strategy, fostered a groundbreaking solution that defied traditional scaffold norms.

The introduction of Layher's XL roof system posed a unique challenge, yet Bilfinger's workforce rose to the occasion. A collaborative session with key stakeholders and a 3D model of the flagship design ensured thorough comprehension. The streamlined Layher UK system quickened the build, ensuring efficiency and quality. The innovative approach also translated into safety excellence, with zero accidents, incidents, or near misses during scaffolding.

MANCHESTER TOWN HALL

NASC member: Lyndon SGB
Main contractor: Lendlease Construction

Lyndon SGB's work on Manchester Town Hall revived an architectural gem. Through ingenious designs, the Grade I listed building received intricate scaffolding solutions for restoration, encompassing an exoskeleton structure and temporary roofs. The collaboration with Lendlease dates back to early engagement, reflecting a strong partnership.

Lyndon SGB's skilled workforce executed complex designs, employing clash detection software for seamless implementation. Innovative solutions like Cintec™ tie system demonstrated technical excellence.

Preserving heritage presented challenges. Precise tie locations, stringent permit procedures, and eco-friendly rainwater management underscored Lyndon SGB's commitment to heritage and sustainability. Lyndon SGB contributed extensively to the project's social values, supporting local charities, offering mental health programs, and promoting STEM education.

POLAR CRANE PIERHEAD LOCK, LONDON

NASC member: Connect Scaffolding
Main contractor: Kier Construction

Connect Scaffolding Ltd's involvement in the Pierhead Lock restoration project centered on renovating and insulating a contemporary waterside complex adjacent to the River Thames.

The project demanded innovative solutions to maintain clear access and unimpeded movement within the scaffold. The Connect team utilised the Layher Allround System scaffold and carefully designed scaffold runs that accommodated the building's geometry, which included intricate radial elevations and terrace levels.

Collaboration between Connect, Kier and engineers ensured a structurally sound solution that met regulations while preserving the contemporary complex's integrity.

Connect's skilled team, from estimators to scaffolders, demonstrated exceptional attention to detail in connection designs and beam layouts. Challenges arose, requiring swift adaptations, such as using specialised resin anchors for high-load fixings and devising solutions for live load-sensitive terrace levels.

MELKSHAM HOUSE, WILTSHIRE

NASC member: Bryson Scaffolding
Main contractor: Beard Construction

Bryson Scaffolding Ltd played a pivotal role in the refurbishment of Melksham House, a Grade II listed mansion. The project encompassed intricate scaffold designs to access all elevations, internal scaffold solutions, chimney stack access, and a complex temporary roof, all while conserving the heritage value of the building, ensuring the building's integrity was maintained.

The scaffold designs incorporated internal scaffolds passing through windows to support spine beams, enabling complex temporary roof structures. Cantilevering methods addressed

WAKEHURST PLACE, HAYWARDS HEATH

NASC member: D&R Group PLC
Main contractor: DBR (London)

D&R Group Plc's contribution to the Wakehurst Place restoration exemplifies its expertise in heritage conservation. The complex restoration of this Grade I historic mansion demanded innovative solutions to protect the structure, accommodate public access, and ensure safety.

D&R Group Plc undertook the task of creating a free-standing access scaffold encompassing all elevations of Wakehurst Mansion. This intricate structure incorporated a bespoke viewing platform for public engagement and a large span temporary roof to safeguard the mansion and adjoining stable block during roof repairs.

The firm's previous experience in projects like Nelson's Column and Kensington Place equipped it for the challenges of Wakehurst Mansion's restoration. With an emphasis on respect for history and meticulous planning, it managed challenges related to sandstone preservation, public interface, and wildlife protection.

Flank elevation showing art work erected to scaffold and viewing gallery

Navigating public pathways and safeguarding delicate sandstone tiles were central challenges. D&R Group Plc's strategic traffic management plan facilitated material movement. Using mobile cranes reduced manual handling, improved efficiency, and minimized public interface. The integration of a viewing platform for the public required innovative design while preserving the mansion's integrity.

Its expertise in constructing roof trusses off-site and lifting them into place expedited the project and enhanced safety.

THE QUEEN'S TOWER IMPERIAL COLLEGE, LONDON

NASC member: JDC Scaffolding
Main contractor: Russell Cawberry

JDC Scaffolding embarked on an intricate restoration journey for The Queen's Tower. This included an 83m freestanding scaffold, an external exoskeleton, hoist run-offs, backpropping, copper dome access, and a Haki temporary rooftop to enable essential repairs, roof replacement, and conservation work.

JDC Scaffolding's team's attention to detail ensured the precise replication of bracing patterns for the external exoskeleton. It also minimised the scaffold's visual impact. The team also adapted to the uneven York Stone steps to managing vaults with minimal drawings; introduced protective coverings for the steps; devised specialised backpropping solutions; and created a bespoke suspended access scaffold for copper replacement.

JDC Scaffolding's collaborative approach led to cost savings, and its sustainability efforts minimised waste while reusing materials. It worked closely with the client, addressing noise concerns and integrating the scaffold as an artistic element.

The restoration of The Queen's Tower adds 50 more years of life to this iconic structure, a contribution that resonates with Imperial College and the larger community.

NEW VICTORIA THEATRE, BRADFORD

NASC member: CWR Scaffolds
Main contractor: R.N.Wooler (RNW)

CWR Scaffolds played a pivotal role in the renovation of the iconic New Victoria Theatre in Bradford City Centre. The project encompassed diverse scaffolding solutions, including interior and exterior platforms, large internal birdcage scaffolds for wall retention, 330m perimeter scaffolding with UBOX temporary roofs, and 125 vertical meters of Uniscaff Stair systems.

Elizabeth Fry Wing at HMP Norwich

CWR's workforce collaboratively designed over 100 drawings, delivering intricate scaffolding solutions. Its constant on-site team facilitated swift responses to challenges and contributed to training younger members.

Challenges included navigating logistical constraints in the bustling city centre and adapting scaffold designs to modernise 1920s concrete floors. The New Victoria's renovation is a significant milestone for Bradford's cultural revival and economic growth. The project was showcased to the City of Culture committee, contributing to Bradford's designation as the City of Culture for 2025.

ELIZABETH FRY WING, NORWICH HMP

NASC member: Narford Scaffolding
Main contractor: Vinci Construction

Narford Scaffolding LTD executed a comprehensive scaffold solution for the HMP Norwich Elizabeth Fry Wing. The scaffold encompassed independent access scaffold to the building's perimeter, complex beam sections for Victorian chimneys, layer staircases, and roof crash decks, all within a prison environment with heightened security regulations.

Narford had to navigate challenging prison environments which demanded meticulous planning and innovative solutions, such as sourcing and adapting acro props for a confined area. Narford's collaborative efforts with its in-house fabrication team ensured timely execution and prevented disruptions to the project timeline.

Innovative solutions, like movable cantilevered beams for off-loading lorries, maximized efficiency while adhering to site limitations.

KINGS CHAPEL, KINGS COLLEGE CAMBRIDGE

NASC member: Rise Scaffold Services
Main contractor: Barnes Construction

Rise Scaffold Services was entrusted with the task of scaffolding the Kings Chapel at Kings College Cambridge. The Grade I listed chapel required intricate lead replacement and roof repairs, necessitating a scaffold that offered weather protection, manual access, and structural support for the temporary roof, parapet wall, and more.

Rise Scaffold's expertise in historical preservation includes other historical projects like Oxburgh Hall and Peterborough Cathedral. Working in a historical and sensitive environment imposed limitations on ground-bearing pressure and crane use. Rise Scaffold's solutions encompassed innovative techniques, such as needle out methods; using nets and advanced handrails; fall prevention and fall arrest systems; and overhead running beam systems to minimise damage and ensure safety.

Rise Scaffold's proactive involvement in the design phase, offering expert advice and suggesting methods with minimal impact, provided a seamless transition to the construction phase. Its meticulous planning, including early morning material deliveries, ensured uninterrupted workflow and efficient utilisation of limited loading times.

THE CRESCENT CENTRE, BRISTOL

NASC member: Shield Services Group
Main contractor: Kier Construction

Shield Services Group took on the £28m Crescent Centre refurbishment in central Bristol, erecting scaffolding for a new two-storey façade, a rooftop extension, and private roof terraces.

The project required complex designs, including splayed truss-out sections, lifts, cantilevers, and edge-protection systems.

The project stands as one of Shield Services Group's largest, exemplifying its vast experience in crafting intricate scaffold solutions for challenging tasks.

Shield Services Group tackled logistical hurdles like limited

The iconic Kings Chapel at Kings College Cambridge

material loading space and effectively managed a site bustling with multiple contractors. Its diligence in controlling falling object risks, from Scaffgap installation to catch fans and protection fans, yielded a remarkable record of zero falling object incidents during the project.

It also showed a commitment to minimising the environmental footprint through vehicle reduction, adhering to clean air standards and engaging with Kier's initiatives for social value, promoting "Second Chance" and "Careers in Construction".

Scaffold Design of the Year Award

WAKEHURST PLACE, HAYWARDS HEATH WEST SUSSEX

Company: Agile Design Consultancy
Lead designer: Thomas
Main contractor: D&R Group/DBR/
Wakehurst/Kew

Agile Design Consultancy undertook the challenge of designing a complex scaffold structure for Wakehurst Place's renovation, facilitating facade access, roofing, and silk screen installation.

The challenge was designing a scaffold that covered all facades, formed a large temporary roof, and allowed for a public viewing platform while complying with wildlife protection regulations and complex loading requirements.

Agile Design Consultancy devised inventive solutions including the incorporation of knee bracing instead of traditional ledger bracing, using alloy 450 beams for both tension and compression, and creating pockets for bat access.

The scaffold was designed with consideration of wind loads of 0.758kN/m<sup>2</sup>, bat safety, and sustainable materials. It held a public viewing platform with a stunning silk screen artwork by visual artist Catherine Nelson.

Collaborative efforts involving clients, architects, engineers and artists ensured a seamless process. The design's success garnered commendations from industry professionals, clients, and even widespread media coverage.

TAF FECHAN VIADUCT, MERTHYR TYDFIL

Company: Enigma Industrial Services
Lead designer: Graham Longair
Main contractor: FCC Construction

Enigma Industrial Services designed an intricate scaffold structure to support Future Valleys Construction in the reinforcement and widening of Taf Fechan Viaduct while maintaining operation of the A465 carriageway.

The project involved developing a scaffold to facilitate steel pier installation, concrete demolition, and new concrete pouring on the twin-arch viaduct. The evolving project specifications required dynamic adjustments to the scaffold design.

Scaffold configurations considered included full birdcage and cantilevered designs. The solution encompassed a hanging scaffold off-the-bridge structure, using bridged access between new steelworks and carefully considering load distribution and material efficiency.

The scaffold design underwent several iterations, accommodating complete UDL (uniform design load) superimposed loads of 1.5kN/m<sup>2</sup> plus wind loads on all platforms. Challenges, such as beam deflection, birdcage stability, and clashes with steel props, led to inventive bridged platforms and birdcage adaptations.

Phase one focused on cantilevering scaffold sections over the bridge sides. Clashes with steel props required reconfiguration, and adaptations were made to ensure stability during dismantling.

The final design package received praise from the site team for clarity and safety. Regular online meetings helped resolve issues quickly, and the collaboration between principal contractor Enigma and scaffold operations ensured smooth implementation.

Health & Safety Award

has transformed the company's approach to mental health.

Hardie completed courses on Mental Health and Wellbeing in the Workplace and People Factors. She also underwent offshore survival training to connect better with remote workers. Her 'Start the Conversation' sessions equip employees with skills to support colleagues in need, and she extended her reach by taking mental health discussions directly to diverse workplaces, including offshore installations.

Hardie's influence reaches beyond the company. Her ambassadorship for a local charity and community involvement reflects her belief in the broader impact of wellbeing.

Her commitment has shifted company culture, making discussions about mental health and wellbeing more commonplace and destigmatized. Hardie is creating lasting changes that set an example for the industry and the wider community.

Peter Humenny's journey at GKR

Scaffolding spans over a decade and includes working on iconic projects such as Battersea Power Station, The Shard, and Tottenham Hotspur Stadium. He is a true safety advocate, holding an array of qualifications including CISRS tickets, SMSTS, Fire Marshal, First Aid, and role-specific certificates. As project supervisor, he oversees scaffold package delivery with a sharp focus on rigorous health and safety standards. He's also spearheading digital transformation by using the SafetyCulture app for electronic site files, handovers, and off-hire certificates, enhancing operational efficiency.

Bottom: work on The Queen's Tower

Humenny adeptly handled the complex splayed scaffold construction at the White City project. By tethering materials and fittings, he streamlined scaffold processes, elevating both efficiency and safety. His introduction of a novel Pre-Start and Daily Task briefing template emphasises the significance of each operative's role in safety.

Humenny's influence extends beyond GKR Scaffolding. His proactive involvement in St James' health and safety initiatives earned commendation from clients and fellow trades. He facilitated occupational health workshops, ensuring wider industry participation and safer work environments. Through his industry engagement and best practice sharing, Humenny set a precedent for holistic safety approaches.

Led by Marek Sobonski, the delivery team

for The Queen's Tower project at Imperial College racked up many achievements. It revolutionised loading procedures, enhancing safety and reducing manual handling.

Facing confined space challenges, the team undertook specialised training, creating bespoke rescue plans. It adopted advanced Combisafe Net training for up-to-date methods and regulations, showcasing their dedication to expertise.

The team's commitment to safety and excellence earned industry and media recognition.

Joining LTC in August 2021, Malachi

Beasley swiftly proved his mettle as a trainee scaffolder. He diligently pursued training, obtaining COTS, Part 1, and Part 2 qualifications by April 2022.

His proactive approach led him to undertake an array of additional certifications, including an IPAF operator qualification, Asbestos Awareness, and Rescue at Height courses. Notably, he became a qualified MHFA Mental Health First Aider.

His commitment to mental health goes beyond the ordinary. Early in his LTC journey, he attended MHFA courses and recognising a colleague's mental health struggles, took action. He communicated his concerns to management. This intervention resulted in the provision of valuable support to the colleague in need and likely made a significant difference in the scaffolder's life.

Beyond individual impact, Beasley's actions reinforced LTC's commitment to mental health awareness. It bolstered employees' trust in the MHFA training the company provides, showcasing the tangible results of such initiatives.

Innovation Award

Benchmark Scaffolding Ltd launched the Benchmark app in 2020 with the aim of tackling industry challenges and streamlining processes by replacing booklets and pens with a greener, digital alternative. Key features include prompts for safety checks, access to 110 toolbox talks, and harness inspections – all accessible via mobile devices.

By replacing cumbersome paper trails with easy-to-use mobile apps, the system has doubled the number of recorded near-miss accidents and toolbox talk delivery rates have reached 100%. Each entry is seamlessly stored in a central portal, facilitating easy access and retrieval.

The Benchmark App has been fine-tuned through a three-year process of planning and collaboration which earned it a gold award for innovation at the National Building and Construction Awards in the UK. The App goes beyond simply digitising processes. It optimises efficiency, reduces the environmental impact of paper usage, and enhances customer satisfaction. The App's integration of mental health support and hazard spotting showcases its adaptability to the evolving needs of the industry.

BY REPLACING PAPER TRAILS WITH MOBILE APPS, THE SYSTEM HAS DOUBLED THE NUMBER OF RECORDED NEAR-MISS ACCIDENTS AND TOOLBOX TALK DELIVERY RATES HAVE REACHED 100%

Ideal Cantilever by Ideal Scaffolding (Southern) Ltd is a scaffolding design that eliminates traditional grounded standards, relying on building facades for vertical and horizontal support. It was developed in collaboration with Optima Scaffold Designs LLP and JDL Consultants Ltd.

The Ideal Cantilever uses shear plates along the building façade

SCAFFLOAT SYSTEM OFFERS VERSATILE SOLUTIONS FOR FLOATING ACCESS BY INTEGRATING STANDARD SCAFFOLD COMPONENTS WITH CUSTOM FLOATS

to create a triangulated support system, enabling decking at multiple levels. This approach spreads load globally across the building structure, avoiding foundation concerns. It reduces kit requirements by 10% compared to conventional methods and shares load across the façade, instead of concentrating at specific points. The system offers adaptability using off-the-shelf components for varied challenges.

The Ideal Cantilever is particularly effective above fragile roofs where conventional methods require roof removal and extensive beam work.

Easily integrated into existing scaffolding, the Ideal Cantilever significantly reduces hazards associated with erection, maintenance, usage, and dismantling.

KEWAZO GmbH created LIFTBOT, a robotic material hoist that automates material handling in scaffolding assembly. It reduces labour costs up to 70% and enhances on-site safety. Its data analytics empower proactive project management and optimisation.

LIFTBOT requires no heavy machinery for installation. Safety features like acoustic signals, safety edges, and load detection ensure a secure work environment. Its semi-automated navigation and wireless operation set new efficiency and safety standards. LIFTBOT is tailored for system scaffolding, streamlining installation and reducing reliance on traditional power sources. Data analytics enhance transparency and project management.

LIFTBOT reduces man-hours by 44% on average, enhancing project efficiency and meeting tight deadlines. Its impeccable safety record and comprehensive safety features ensure a secure work environment.

ScaffFloat combines custom plastic floats with standard scaffold components to create pontoons and workboats. This unique system offers versatile solutions for floating access. The flexibility and adaptability of ScaffFloat have led to continuous innovation and problem-solving. By integrating standard scaffold components with custom floats, it allows scaffolding to float, providing safe access for contractors and workers. The system is constantly evolving to address complex challenges posed by clients.

For more intricate floating solutions, ScaffFloat collaborates with clients to develop tailored solutions.

ScaffFloat offers numerous benefits, including outboard propulsion pods for increased mobility, sustainability through recyclable floats, global deployment, stability assurance, certification from regulatory bodies, and compatibility with various add-ons. The system significantly reduces installation time for projects involving suspended scaffolds over water.

ScaffFloat's inherent safety features, stability, edge protection, and compliance with industry standards improve worker safety during erection, usage, and dismantling.

President's Award

Joining GKR Scaffolding in 2014 as transport/yard manager, Phil Wise's expertise in fleet management propelled him to achieve an OCR Level 3 Certificate of Competence for Transport Manager. With a keen eye for efficiency, he currently manages material stock and a fleet of 50+ projects, overseeing operations with precision.

Wise's standout performance lies in his skillful management of GKR's yard and fleet, despite space limitations. His role was pivotal in achieving Gold status in FORS accreditation, a testament to his operational prowess. His adaptability and seamless interaction with contracts managers underline his exceptional interpersonal skills.

Wise's impact on GKR's growth is undeniable. His process enhancements contributed to GKR's growth from a £13m to a £30m+ turnover, using the same number of vehicles. Beyond his role, his engagement in social media and commitment to sustainability initiatives exemplify his well-rounded dedication.

Kellyanne Conway's journey at JR Scaffold began 22 years ago as an office junior. She progressed to office manager and is now the operations director. Her dedication, growth, and integral role in the company's success are evident through her tireless efforts and commitment to the business.

Conway's journey showcases her exceptional dedication. Her meticulous planning and dedication from her very first day exemplified her commitment. Rising through the ranks, she now oversees a team of 15, effectively coordinating activities and liaising with clients, especially in Warmworks, where she supports vulnerable clients.

JR Scaffold says Conway's positive and welcoming demeanor spreads across the office and clients. Beyond her professional duties, she's the driving force behind numerous CSR projects, raising over £750,000 for charities. Her efforts to support the community include distributing food bags, feeding the homeless, and organising donations for refugees and local charities.

"Kellyanne's values have rooted JR Scaffold in community support, strengthening relationships with clients, suppliers, and the team. Her charity work not only earned positive PR but also enhanced the company's reputation as a caring brand. Her support for apprentices and fostering strong relationships underscores her role's significance in the business."

Luke Caldicott's journey at Lyndon SGB began over 20 years ago as a trainee scaffolder. Progressing through roles, his dedication and skills led him to become an advanced scaffolder. His safety consciousness and reliability set him apart.

In 2012, Luke became an assistant yard manager, utilising his organisational skills. Rapidly promoted to yard manager, he oversees multiple yard locations, orchestrating logistical operations with military-like precision.

Caldicott is not only a leader in logistics but also in people support. As a mental health advocate, he holds qualifications as a mental health first aider, showing genuine care for his team's wellbeing. He connects personally with his team, providing vital support and fostering an engaged and high-performing workforce. Amid the pandemic, he pursued a NEBOSH Construction qualification, reflecting his commitment to growth.

His employer says: "Luke's influence is far-reaching. He ensures top-quality equipment reaches scaffolders, resulting in high-caliber scaffold installations and satisfied customers. His background on the tools informs his pursuit of excellence, contributing to a strong team ethos and repeat business.

His remarkable journey from trainee to yard manager demonstrates his unwavering dedication. Beyond logistics, his advocacy and support for mental health and personal growth showcase his outstanding character. His hands-on approach and commitment to excellence make him an indispensable asset to Lyndon SGB."

ROONEY CONSISTENTLY PUSHED FOR SAFER PRACTICES, CONTRIBUTING TO SAFETY GUIDANCE

Adrian Rooney is a scaffold industry veteran. He founded Midland Scaffolding Services Ltd (MSS) in 1982 and served as MD for 40 years.

He stepped down in 2021, but his expertise enriches the industry as a consultant and a NASC Health and Safety Committee member.

Rooney's lifelong dedication began at 19, building MSS into a multi-million-pound business. His unwavering commitment to health and safety sets him apart. His strong voice challenged conventions, showcasing his care for workers' wellbeing.

Adrian Rooney,
industry influencer

Rooney consistently pushed for safer practices, contributing tirelessly to producing safety guidance. His approach - "Adrianisms" - elevated MSS's work quality and reputation.

Rooney's impact on MSS is profound. His emphasis on standards and meticulous execution created a distinct culture. This translated into lasting customer relationships and a loyal workforce. His influence fosters a workforce that prioritises safety and quality.

His colleague, Robert Slattery, advanced senior charge hand says of him: "The way that Adrian can interpret a client's needs has never failed to amaze me; his ability to understand hugely complex designs and put them into practice I have always admired.

"Adrian is always looking at ways to improve - both methods and materials. I see him walk round construction sites not only admiring and checking the work from his employees, but he also looking at the overall health and safety of the site, reporting back to site teams on how we might improve things.

"The people I work with day in and day out have nothing but respect and admiration for Adrian. That includes the members of staff at MSS, site teams and his loyal customers. His door has always been open, he is fair, always full of knowledge and encouragement for his team and he would be on site at the start of every single job leading from the front.

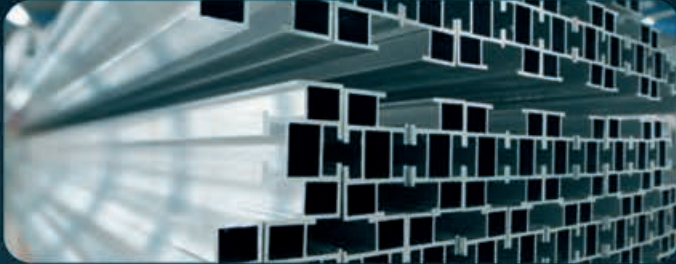

"Above all Adrian has created a family within the company, the foundations which were built on loyalty and trust. I don't feel that's easy to find in our industry."

Apprentice of the Year

Cameron Rowswell is the third generation in his family to embrace the trade. His enthusiasm reflects a long-term commitment to growth and learning. Beginning as a yard labourer after secondary education, he rapidly became an integral part of GKR Scaffolding, contributing to the efficient delivery of materials to sites.

Despite his youth, Rowswell consistently suggests innovative solutions on site, showcasing qualities synonymous with GKR Scaffolding's culture. His exceptional work ethic, punctuality, and keenness to tackle complex projects exemplify the qualities sought in GKR's operatives.

His proactive assistance extends beyond his role, helping newcomers navigate GKR's operations and aiding them in accessing necessary resources. His role in guiding fellow trainees showcases his leadership potential. Rowswell's involvement in a promotional video celebrating apprenticeships tripled the engagement with potential apprentices.

Rowswell's impact is evident in his dedication to both his role and the company's overall growth. His journey stands as an example of how young apprentices can exceed expectations and play a significant role in fostering innovation, learning and positive change within an organisation.

Jack Kirkcaldy's entrance into the scaffolding industry began with a serendipitous encounter that showcased his strong work ethic and attention to detail. From this initial connection, he swiftly became an indispensable part of I-Scaff Access Solutions.

i-Scaff notes his "likeable personality, honesty and strong character" saying his colleagues quickly embraced him, and he formed valuable friendships within the team. His determination was evident when he went above and beyond to complete a job even when under pressure from the client.

His employer says his ability to listen, learn, and improve sets Kirkcaldy apart. "His eagerness to understand and share his knowledge has been noticed, particularly when he coached fellow trainees in a challenging task. His punctuality, reliability, and proactive attitude have elevated him beyond initial expectations.

"Jack's willingness to assist others and his rapport with clients have made a significant impact. He not only excels in his tasks but also guides peers both professionally and personally. His effective communication and proactive problem-solving have solidified his role as a crucial team member.

His contributions have instilled a sense of trust and reliability within the organisation. His personal growth journey to become a proactive and capable team member serves as an inspiring example. Jack Kirkcaldy embodies the qualities of a future leader, reflecting the company's values and commitment to excellence."

Top: Cameron Rowswell
Below: Jack Kirkcaldy

JACK'S WILLINGNESS TO ASSIST OTHERS HAS MADE A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT. HE NOT ONLY EXCELS IN HIS TASKS BUT ALSO GUIDES PEERS PROFESSIONALLY AND PERSONALLY

An affinity for hands-on learning and a passion for practical skills led Darrin Pryde to pursue a career in scaffolding. Inspired by his father and uncle's experiences in the field, he joined Lyndon SGB and quickly established himself as a dedicated and eager learner.

Pryde's outstanding work ethic shone from the beginning, exemplified by his proactive approach to tasks. His quiet demeanour evolved into confident expertise as he absorbed and applied scaffold knowledge. His curiosity extended beyond the 'what' to the 'why', a trait that garnered respect and mentorship from more experienced colleagues.

His commitment to assisting his peers was evident both in the yard and on site. He took the initiative to guide and explain intricate details to less experienced team members. Pryde's natural leadership emerged on larger projects, where he willingly led and supported newer colleagues.

Lyndon SGB says Pryde's transformation from shy newcomer to confident, knowledgeable professional has been exceptional. "His proactive engagement, attention to detail, and consistent time keeping have left a significant impact. His passion for safety and his dedication to adhering to company procedures showcase his well-rounded approach.

"Darrin's willingness to share knowledge, take the initiative, and contribute ideas has elevated his status within the company. His dedication to his craft, coupled with his commitment to continuous improvement, position him as a shining example for others in the scaffolding industry."

HIS DEDICATION TO HIS CRAFT, COUPLED WITH HIS COMMITMENT TO CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT POSITION HIM AS A SHINING EXAMPLE FOR OTHERS

Mark Miles's route into the scaffolding industry is unique: transitioning from a car production line. Drawn by the allure of varied projects and locations, Miles's passion for challenge and change led him to Lyndon SGB. His rapid growth within the company demonstrates his unwavering dedication, remarkable work ethic and can-do attitude.

Below: Mark Miles

He thrives in a collaborative team environment, drawing immense satisfaction from collective achievements.

"Working alongside experienced colleagues, Mark not only contributes effectively but actively seeks guidance and mentoring, displaying a desire to continually learn and improve," his employer says.

"Self-awareness and a proactive approach shine in his ability to anticipate job requirements and implement safety measures. His participation in safety protocols and attention to housekeeping sets an example for others. Clients frequently commend his conscientiousness and diligence, underlining his impact."

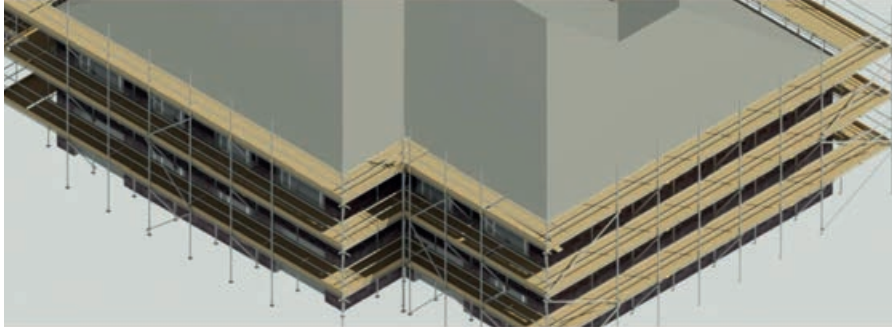

Lyndon SGB note that Miles's influence extends beyond his team, leaving a mark on fellow apprentices. "He openly shares his knowledge and experiences, readily assisting newer apprentices in their growth. His dedication to punctuality and teamwork has earned respect and admiration, making him a role model.

Mark Miles's journey as an apprentice at Lyndon SGB is a testament to his dedication and potential. His transformative shift from his prior career to the scaffolding industry showcases his adaptability and passion. Mark's commitment to learning, teamwork, and growth has positioned him as a standout apprentice, setting a standard for excellence within the organisation.

"With his strong attributes and unwavering support, he is destined to emerge as a leader and continue making valuable contributions to the scaffolding industry."

CADS Ltd trading as SMART Scaffolder: Transforming scaffold management with innovative software solutions

SMART Scaffolder offers a comprehensive range of software products designed to enhance productivity and compliance for scaffold contractors. The products are: SMART Estimator; SMART Manager, SMART Inspector, and SMART Handover; SMART Calculations; SMART Scaffolder for Revit.

SMART Estimator employs 3D modelling and BIM integration, enabling precise estimating of materials and efficient project visualisation. Its user-friendly interface simplifies quote generation, reducing manual calculations and enhancing profitability. The software helps identify potential issues before construction begins.

SMART Manager, a cloud-based solution, streamlines site work processes, enhancing productivity and safety. It offers digital handovers and inspections, reducing errors and communication gaps. By going digital, SMART Manager users contribute to environmental sustainability by saving trees and reducing carbon emissions.

SMART Scaffolder offers intelligent software that improves productivity, profitability, and sustainability in scaffold contracting. Its tools provide a competitive edge, improved compliance, and professional documentation. With a focus on user control and data analysis, they empower businesses to work smarter and safer.

Fulcrum Scaffold Safety & Training: Empowering rehabilitation and workforce development

Fulcrum Scaffold Training & Safety offers comprehensive health, safety, and training services to the construction, nuclear, petrochemical, and power generation industries. It has a specific expertise in providing CISRS-accredited training within HMP establishments across the north west. This unique arrangement benefits both contractors and inmates. It offers:

- Rehabilitation and skills development: Providing vocational training equips inmates with valuable skills, reducing recidivism and supporting reintegration into society.
- Job opportunities: Training inmates in the scaffolding trade creates marketable skills and employment opportunities, enhancing chances of stable post-release employment.
- Positive community impact: Equipping individuals with skills and support systems improves community contribution and fosters safer neighbourhoods.

Iphorms: revolutionizing scaffolding management

Iphorms offers a bespoke app designed to transform scaffolding contractors' management processes. This app covers everything from timesheets to compliance and liability solutions, ensuring accurate data capture in a paperless format.

The solution integrates with existing systems and databases, enhancing data management efficiency. Iphorms provides dedicated support and training guaranteeing smooth implementation and ongoing assistance.

The app improves accuracy and reliability by digitising compliance and daily health and safety forms, mitigating the risk of errors and omissions. The 'Clocking in' function tracks working hours down to the second and verifies equipment readiness and worker fitness, enhancing accountability.

Strikesoft: Revolutionising scaffolding management

Strikesoft is a provider of specialised software for the scaffolding industry, catering to both office and onsite needs. This software is designed to streamline various aspects of scaffolding contract management.

Strikesoft's software offers scaffolding firms an end-to-end solution, facilitating contract management from initial enquiry to invoicing. The software's estimating feature simplifies budgeting for labour, transportation, materials and more, allowing for real-time monitoring against actual expenses during project execution. This comprehensive approach enhances efficiency, quality control and overall profitability.

The software boasts an array of reports, including productivity analysis and cost breakdowns. Moreover, the optional mobile app, StrikeMobile, extends these benefits to the field. It digitises paperwork, ensuring essential documents are signed, and provides access to vital resources like toolbox talks, drawings, photos, training records, and more. Scaffolders can complete safety checks, time sheets, and issue certificates directly from the app.

Esher Scaffolding Group Limited has continued to steadily grow despite the current economic background, according to Kevin Withers Group MD. With a steady demand within the Utility Sector we have continued to provide bespoke access scaffold solutions for our clients, and this success is not only due to the team's experience from initial enquiry to client handover but through a positive ethos encouraging physical health, mental wellbeing and giving back within the community which has formed a loyal team and we are looking forward to continued success in the coming 12 months.
